This is a public and mail bid auction conducted by Classical Numismatic Auctions, a division of Classical Numismatic Group, Inc. Bidding in the auction constitutes acceptance of the following terms and conditions.

1. The property listed in this catalogue is offered for sale by CNA (the auctioneers) as agents for various owners and other consignors. We reserve the right to withdraw any lot before the close of the sale.
2. All lots are subject to a 10% Buyer's fee on the hammer price.
3. All coins are guaranteed genuine and as described based on the most current information available to the cataloguer. Grading is a subjective art. Every effort has been made to be conservative in our grading. Please note that an auction sale is not an approval sale. Lots examined prior to the sale may not be returned for any reason except authenticity. Estimates given by the auctioneers are intended as a guide only and not as a statement of opinion of value.
4. Terms are for cash, with invoices being due and payable immediately upon receipt and the auctioneers reserve the right to charge interest on any overdue payment on invoices not settled within 30 days of the sale date. Payment by check must be made in either US ($) or British (£) funds and drawn on an United States or British bank (Cheques in sterling but not drawn on a British bank must include £10 extra for bank charges). Visa and Mastercard (Access) may be used to pay your bill, however, a 3.5% surcharge is made for the use of your credit card, our cost from the bank.
5. Bidders not known to us must provide us with satisfactory credit references and/or pay the full purchase price or a deposit as determined at the auctioneer's discretion before delivery of lots. Minors are forbidden from bidding without a parent's signature on the bid sheet.
6. Bid in even dollar ($ amounts). Mail Bidder Protection. You may submit bids with confidence. Where competition permits, your bids will be executed at 10% over the next highest bid. Please note, that most bids below estimate are rarely reduced, due to heavy competition. If you bid over estimate, chances are that your bids will be reduced. In the case of tie bids - the bid received earliest wins. Bid by lot number. No lots will be broken.
7. A word on Reserves. If a lot is reserved, it will not be in excess of the estimate. Check your bid sheets carefully. The seller cannot assume responsibility for errors made by bidders.
8. Buyers accepting commission bids from other parties do so at their own risk and will remain responsible to the auctioneers for full settlement per the terms of sale for this auction. Buyers shall not be entitled to remove lots from the auction room during the course of the auction without the prior permission of the auctioneer.
9. Sales Tax and postage are added to all invoices where appropriate. Postage for any book lots will be invoiced separately at the auctioneer's cost.
10. Prices Realised are published shortly after the sale and mailed to all bidders who have participated in the sale.
11. If you bid in this sale, you accept the terms as outlined above. Any legal disputes that might arise will be handled in the courts of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

3. ANONYMOUS. Circa 5th-6th Century AD. AR Siliqua or Half Siliqua (0.90 gm). Constantinople? Helmeted bust right (Constantinopolis) / Large K. Ratto 471. Toned VF. (200)

These pieces have never been adequately identified. There are several varieties of obverse bust, which may represent Roma and Constantinopolis, and the letters K, P, R, T and crosses are found on the reverse. General consensus places them in the reign of Justinian I.

Obverse types from Anastasius to the reform of Justinian are static, with few variations. The gold solidus has a military bust, helmeted with cuirass and holding a spear over the shoulder. All other denominations have a diademed and draped (a paludamentum) bust right. A cuirass is visible on better specimens. Variations include ornaments on or above the diadem, and a decorated patch on the shoulder, usually bearing a star. The legend is normally DN — PP (or PERP) AVG (or AV). There are occasional special issues of different patterns. Unless there is a variation from the normal type, the obverse is not mentioned in the following descriptions.

According to Berk "no specimens noted better than fine". Thus the description in Seaby as having no star on the shoulder may simply be a result of imperfect examples.

27. 498-518 AD. AE Decanummium (3.03 gm). Nicomedia. ICON CORD, large I flanked by N I. SB 44; DOC I 38.1; MIB I 53; Berk 32. VF, brown patina. (45)

30. 512-518 AD. AE Half Follis (7.33 gm). Antioch. Type with cross above diadem, extremely distorted legend / Large K; cross flanked by AN/TX, B. SB 49; DOC I 47a; MIB I 58; Berk 36. Fine, brown patina. (40)

This coin displays what would become a defining Antiochene characteristic, namely a poorly formed legend on an otherwise competently prepared die. It is unlikely that a cosmopolitan center such as Antioch should be lacking in literate die engravers and mint officials. In light of Antioch's long history of resistance to imperial rule, with dissent fueled in later centuries by religious differences, it is tempting to see the distorting of the emperor's name as a deliberate and infuriating snub!

Ex Hunt collection. The Tyche, or City-Goddess of Antioch, was represented throughout antiquity by the statue sculpted by Eutychides of Sicyon around 297 BC. The statue first appeared on coins of the Seleukid kings, and in the Roman period was depicted on many of the bronze coins of the city, along with its shrine. This pentanummi is unique in showing clear details of both statue and shrine. Tyche is shown holding grain ears and seated on a rock, while the river-god Orontes (barely visible under the corrosion) swims at her feet. This is very similar to the Roman copy of the Tyche in the Vatican Museum. A canopy covers the group, with Corinthian capitals and rotunda. The shrine must have been built in the mid-third century AD, for it first appears on coins of Trajan Decius (BMC Galatia etc. pg. 222, 600). The Tyche of Antioch is the last pagan monument to appear on a coin of antiquity.

The coinage reform of Justinian I in 538 AD was apparently prompted by a decree that all imperial documents be dated by regnal year. Coins are of course as important an imperial document as any other. Besides the dated reverse, the obverse of the higher denominations in each series (gold, silver, and bronze) also reflected the change. The new type was a helmeted, cuirassed facing bust, holding globus cruciger and shield, frequently a cross in the right field balanced the globus. Minor denominations retained the old draped bust right type, but there were many exceptions to the rule. More types appeared later in the 6th century; crowned and draped busts, consular robes with sceptre and mappa, and the various emperors enthroned with their consorts. Unless otherwise stated, the obverses of the following lots are of the usual type for that series.

*The unique denominations used by Alexandria appear to be the result of the combining of several different monetary systems. The basic unit, a coin of 12 nummi, was equivalent to the old Egyptian tetradrachm. Adding a Vandalic 21 nummi to a 12 nummi equals 33 nummi, while adding 6 and 3 nummi (other Alexandrian denominations) to 33 equals a Vandalic follis of 42 nummi. See Hendy, Studies in the Byzantine Monetary Economy, pp. 497-498 for a further discussion of this convoluted system.*

151. 562-565 AD. AE Nummus (0.48 gm). Carthage. Nimbate bust facing, flanked by crosses / Skewed A surrounded by three stars. SB 282; DOC I 310.2; MIB I 213; Berk 280. VF, most details visible under thick green patina. Rare this nice. (40)

152. 552-565 AD. AE Decanummium (5.61 gm). North African mint. Large I flanked by crosses; CON. SB 286; DOC I 316; MIB I 201; Berk 269. VF, good strike for type. (45)

Originally attributed to the city of Constantine in Numidia, these decanummi are now assumed to be the products of a workshop of the Constantinople mint working in North Africa, possibly in Carthage. They are sometimes found overstruck on the VICTORIA AG decanummi of Carthage.

153. 552-565 AD. AE Decanummium (5.54 gm). North African mint. Large I flanked by crosses; CON. SB 286; DOC I 316; MIB I 201; Berk 269. Rough VF, green patina. (40)

154. 542-552 AD. AE Pentanummium (1.67 gm). Sicily. Large V in wreath. SB 337; DOC I 369; MIB I 246 (small type); Berk 216. Good VF, dark green patina. Rare this nice. (100)

Opinions are split as to the mint of issue. Two sizes of these pentanummi are known, the smaller about half the weight of the larger. Some authorities see two or more mints at work, in Italy and Sicily; while others, such as MIB, see one mint in Sicily with two phases of operation.

155. 539-542 AD. AE Follis (9.48 gm). Rome. Crude bust / Large M flanked by six-pointed star and cross; ROMA, all in wreath. SB 294; DOC I 322; MIB I 214.2; Berk 202. VF, jade green patina. (175)

This style of bust displays many characteristics of the Ostrogothic coinage of Rome.

SB 274 (Ravenna mint) has a linear border within the wreath on the reverse. There are no pentanummi attributed to Rome until the conclusion of the Gothic war in 552. This piece, clearly lacking the border, and showing some affinities with the decanummi of Rome, would fill a gap in the early coinage of Justinian at Rome.

*Salona in Dalmatia was a regional center of military activity and a regional treasury (see Hendy, Studies in the Byzantine Monetary Economy, pg. 405). These unmarked bronzes are found in the region, and may have been struck for the army units serving under Germanus and Narses.*

166. 549-552 AD. $\text{\textit{AE}}$ Half Follis (2.71 gm). Salona. Large K. SB 331; DOC I 360; MIB I 250; Berk 307. VF, green patina. (50)

Cherson used as its basic unit the pentanummium instead of the nummus. Thus the later large bronzes were denominated 8(H) pentanummi rather than 40(M) nummi.

This coin has never been conclusively attributed to either Justin I or Justin II. Arguments in favor of Justin II are that it fills a gap (no other decanummium of Justin II is known from Constantinople), and a parallel concept of the victorious emperor is seen on the Antioch bronzes of year 1 and 2. Another possibility is that these are not Constantinople mint, but the North African mint signing in the name of the capital, as for Justinian I.

Although more are known now than the "fewer than ten" specimens noted by Berk, this type with the globus cruciger is still one of the rarest bronzes of Phocas.

278. Indictional Year 14 (610/611 AD). AE Follis (12.17 gm). Alexandretta. DmN ERACLIO CONSULII, bare-headed busts of Heraclius and his father / Large M; ANNO XIII, A/AΛΕΞΑΝΔ. SB 722; DOC II 16; MIB II 16a (Alexandria); Berk 534. Fine, dark green patina. Extremely Rare. (400)

Alexandretta in Syria was a major staging area for the rebel assault on Constantinople, and many of these coins have been found in the vicinity. MIB's attribution to Alexandria seems less likely. The use of the title Consul and Indictional dating shows a careful respect for propriety; Heraclius would not declare himself emperor until the tyrant Phocas was removed from the throne.

279. 608-610 AD. AE Decanummium (3.81 gm). Carthage. ERACI O CONSVI, draped bust of Heraclius, holding sceptre, cross above head / Large X flanked by N M with pellets, cross above and star below. SB 715; DOC II 8; MIB II 13.2; Berk 531B. Near EF, brown patina. (350)

Exceptional condition for these. On clear examples the distinction between the bearded portrait of Heraclius Sr. and the beardless portrait of his son, the future emperor, is evident. The bearded portrait is the scarcer.

General obverse types for Heraclius (as per DOC). AV: Class I -Crowned and draped bust holding cross. Class II-Crowned and draped busts of Heraclius and Heraclius Constantine. Class III-Similar to Class II, but Heraclius has long beard and flowing mustache. Class IV- Standing figures of Heraclius and his sons, Heraclius Constantine and Heraclonas. AR: The only type normally encountered is of Heraclius and Heraclius Constantine enthroned. AE : Class 1-Helmeted (or crowned) and cuirassed facing bust, holding globus cruciger. Class 2-Standing figures of Heraclius and Heraclius Constantine, both crowned and draped. Class 3 -Same as Class 2, but with the additional figure of Martina. Class 4-Same as Class 3, but on the reverse ANNO is above the denomination on the follis. Class 5-Heraclius and Heraclius Constantine standing, Heraclius in military uniform. Class 6-Standing figures of Heraclius and his sons, Heraclius Constantine and Heraclonas. There are numerous variations on the standard types.

302. Year 8 (617/618 AD). AE Follis (9.72 gm). Thessalonica. Class 2 / Large M; ANNO GII, B/ΘEC. SB 824; DOC II (138); MIB III 220; Berk 638. Near VF, green patina. Overstruck on Phocas follis of year 5, and follis of Maurice. (40)

303. Year 7 (616/617 AD). AE Half Follis (5.84 gm). Thessalonica. Class 2 / Large K; ANNO UII, ΘEC. SB 830; DOC II 142var. (position of date); MIB III 228; Berk 645. VF, black patina, figure of Constantine encrusted. (35)

304. Year 18 (627/628 AD). AE Follis (6.82 gm). Thessalonica. Class 3 / Large M; ANNO XGII, B/ΘEC. SB 825; DOC II-; MIB III 221; Berk 639. VF, black patina. (40)

This unlisted date places the beginning of the reduced follis at Thessalonica in 627/628. This reduction had taken place at Constantinople three years earlier. There is some confusion over the dates used at Thessalonica with that mint apparently using both XGIII and XX for 20.

305. Year 19 (628/629 AD). AE Follis (8.28 gm). Thessalonica. Class 3 / Large M; ANNO XGIII, B/ΘEC. SB 825; DOC II (148)var; MIB III 221; Berk 639. VF, black patina. (40)

Another example of Thessalonica 'muddying the waters'. This piece is struck to the higher weight standard abandoned two years earlier.

306. Year 20 (629/630 AD). AE Follis (6.12 gm). Thessalonica. Class 3 / Large M; ANNO XGIII, B/ΘEC. SB 825; DOC II (148); MIB III 221; Berk 639. VF, brown and green patina. (40)

This piece is struck to the normal weight standard.

307. Year 20 (629/630 AD). AE Follis (6.73 gm). Thessalonica. Class 5 / Large M; ANNO XX, B/ΘEC. SB 826; DOC II-; MIB III 222; Berk 640. Fine, dark green patina. Rare. (50)

308. Year 3 (612/613 AD). AE Half Follis (4.45 gm). Thessalonica? Class 2, but with Heraclius and Heraclius Constantine seated / Large K; ANO(sic) III, A. SB-; DOC II-; MIB III-; Berk-. Unpublished. VF, encrusted dark green patina. (40)

Stylistically similar to Thessalonica issues. Parallels are found with other unsigned branch mint half folles of Class I, and the production of this piece of Class 2 would be in keeping with the idiosyncratic nature of the Thessalonica mint.

309. Year 3 (612/613 AD). AE Decanummium (2.72 gm). Thessalonica? Class 1, with crown and drapery / Large X; III. SB 817; DOC II-; MIB III 231a; Berk-. VF, earthen patina. (40)

The sources are divided on the mint for this piece; SB and DOC claim Constantinople, MIB suggests Thessalonica. In addition, the crowned bust is unknown for year 3.

310. Year 5 (614/615 AD). AE Decanummium (1.66 gm). Thessalonica? Diademed and draped bust / Large X; U. SB 818; DOC II-; MIB III 232; Berk-. VF, dark brown patina. (50)

311. Year 2 (611/612 AD). AE Half Follis (6.33 gm). Nicomedia. Class 1 / Large K(reversed); ANN II, A. SB 837; DOC II 156a var; MIB III 179; Berk 562. VF, brown and green patina. Interesting engraver's blunder. (35)

312. 612-615 AD. AE Follis (12.47 gm). Nicomedia. Class 2, but Heraclius and Heraclius Constantine standing on dais composed of XXXX / Large M; ANNO (?), ANIKO. SB 834; DOC II 158ff; MIB III 175; Berk 558. VF, partially cleaned. Overstruck on Phocas follis of year 5, and another coin. (45)

Unrecorded variant with decorated dais.

AE Follis of Jerusalem

336. Indictional Year 4 (630/631 AD). AE Follis (13.29 gm). Jerusalem. Crowned bust in consular garb, holding mappa and eagle sceptre / Large M; ANNO IIII, IEPOCO'. SB 852B; DOC II; MIB III X27; Berk 588. Fine, black patina with scratches, dig on reverse. (850)

One of the great rarities of the entire Byzantine series. This coin has always been dated by regnal year to 613/614 AD, at the beginning of the Persian invasion. However, if the date is taken as an indictional year, a form of dating used at other times by Heraclius, you get a date of 630/631 AD, shortly after Heraclius entered the gates of Jerusalem, bearing the Holy Cross that had been plundered by the Persians. The other mintmark known for this type-X C NIKA (Jesus Christ Conquers)-would be an appropriate acclamation for that event. Auction appearances for both types include: Berk/England, lot 140 ($1300); Stemberg XIII, lot 1111; Bonham/Vecchi VI, lot 616; A. Cahn 47 (May 1922-earliest appearance?), lot 1273.

As was so often the case through history, Alexandrian coins of the 6th century were counterfeited in abundance. A common imitation was a 12 nummi in the name of Justinian, weighing about 1 gram, much lighter than the official issue. In the reign of Heraclius these pieces were evidently called in and restruck as official 6 nummi pieces. The undertype is frequently still visible.

589. WEIGHT. Circa 6th Century AD. AE 1 Onkia (Ounce) (26.33 gm). Engraved nimbate busts of emperor and empress within wreath, emperor wears diadem, empress a crown with trefoil ornament; two circles in upper corners, Γ A in lower. Faces and letters inlaid with silver. Good VF, olive-green patina, silver clean and intact. Choice condition and style. Rare this nice. (1000)

The couple is not identified, but the style places the piece in the 6th Century AD. Justinian and Theodora or Justin II and Sophia are two possibilities.

590. WEIGHT. Circa 5th-6th Century AD. AE 2 Onkia (Ounces) (52.89 gm). Ω B flanking cross; engraved circle and decorated corners. Letters and cross were once inlaid with silver. VF, black patina. (150)

Some idea of the success of Anastasius' reform can be gathered from the quantity of imitations that immediately followed the introduction of the follis.

AV

593. Imitation of HERACLIUS. AV Solidus (4.22 gm). Balkan Region. Heraclius with Heraclonas and Heraclius Constantine / Garbled legend, cross on steps; CONOB (retrograde). Cf. SB 763. VF for type, two holes at 12:00. (600)

A distinctive series of imitative solidi is found in the Balkan area. They were undoubtedly struck by the Avars and other Slavic tribes that tormented the empire in the late 6th-early 7th Century AD. Heraclius beat them back temporarily, but the threat would recur in later centuries.

594. Imitation of CONSTANS II. AE Follis (3.46 gm). Cyprus? CON..., crowned bust with long beard / Large M; ANN XIII (?) A/KVII. Cf. MIB X16-20. VF, thick reddish-brown patina with verdigris and pits. (45)

MIB describes several crude varieties of Constans II folles as imitations from the Syro-Palestinian region. It is possible, however, that this piece is an official issue from a Byzantine mint on Cyprus, which retained its importance as a bastion against Arab expansion until its capture in 649 AD.

595. Imitation of THEOPHILUS. AV Solidus (3.53 gm). Sicily. Garbled legend, crowned bust wearing loros and holding cross / Garbled legend, crowned bust. Cf. SB 1670 note; DOC III 25; Spahr 435. VF for type. (250)

The Arab invasion of Sicily began during the reign of Michael II in 827 AD. The imitations of Theophilus solidi found on the island represent the beginnings of Arab coinage on Sicily.

596. Imitation of ANONYMOUS Type D/C. AE Follis (5.72 gm). Christ enthroned / IC X IK NI (letters retrograde) around jewelled cross. Cf. SB 1836/1825. Fine, brown patina. (45)

Khusru II issued coins for the occupied province of Egypt at a higher weight standard and with subsidiary symbols reflecting Sassanian rule, but retained the outward Byzantine Christian form of the coinage. What is curious about this piece is that the arms of the cross on the reverse have been carefully hammered away, leaving a plain shaft. Obviously, someone did not agree with Khusru's conciliatory policies!

610. GEORGIA, Kings of? Imitation of John I. AE 22mm (3.34 gm). IWANNOC monogram / ΔΕCΠΟΤΟV monogram. Cf. SB 1794. Good VF, brown patina, flan cracks. (450)

The bronze coinage of Cherson of the 9th and 10th century is always cast, not struck as this piece. It is carefully made, apparently on a re-struck flan. A possible source would be the Bagratid kingdom of Georgia. Kings David the Great, Bagrat III, 975-1014, (roughly Contemporary with John I), and Bagrat IV minted imitations of Abbasid and Byzantine silver coins, and Cherson bronzes might have been familiar in Georgia and suitable for imitation.
